Masonic Trivia

On his famous solo flight across the Atlantic, Charles Lindberg wore a square and compasses on his jacket as a good luck piece. He was a mason.

Richard E. Byrd and his pilot Bernt Balchen, both brothers, dropped Masonic flags over the North and South Poles. Brother Balchen also tossed his shrine fez on the South Pole.

On August 23, 1879, Lodge #239 of France held a meeting in a balloon flying over Paris, at which time a brother was initiated!

The Grand Master of Mass. Commanded rebels at Bunker Hill while the grand master of England commanded English forces. The G.M. of Mass was killed.

The Master's Corner

Greetings to the brethren of York Lodge:

As my time in the East quickly comes to an end I would like to again thank those of you who have been supportive during my tenure there. It matters not whether that support was for my actions or for the Lodge's activities; it is still very much appreciated. We are currently looking to have our inspection (tentatively) on October 24th. We should be as well prepared for it as we can be and I have no doubts that we will be well represented that evening. We will also be having an Open House on Saturday, October 8th. Please try to attend these if at all possible; we do still need your support.

We have had a great fundraising year, in fact the lodge has not looked better in that regard than in many a year. Everything is still looking good in preparation for our Bicentennial Celebration, even Boaz and Jachin have received a much needed makeover, thank you Bro. Fink. I would also like to mention, if you have not already read it, that he received a great write-up in the Maine Mason about it. Congratulations on that Dan. I will be communicating with you through this Trestle Board only once more and I will then hand it over to the incoming master for the December 2011 edition. I'm sure he will want to communicate with all of you before he takes the Oriental Chair.

Fraternally,
Wor. Phil Perez
